

What it Means to be a Member Anderson Marsh Interpretive Association (AMIA)

AMIA has been in existence for many years with a primary objective of preserving and enhancing the use of Anderson Marsh State Historic Park. It is a magnificent piece of history, a beautiful site to behold full of ancient trees, soaring birds and quiet splendor.

AMIA hosted the Blackberry Festival for many years until it was transformed into The Old Time Bluegrass Festival. This yearly community event raises money to ensure that Anderson Marsh State Historic Park is ready and adequately staffed to host educational events in science, history and performing arts. AMIA has hosted several Science & Arts Day Camps, sponsored by the Children's Museum of Art & Science (CMAS). Plans are underway to host this year's CMAS Day Camp in May.

We envision that the future will bring more children – more adults and more folks from out of town. The park needs docents, hands on exhibits and ongoing maintenance. We also see a future Discovery Center, to include visitor information, an outdoor performing arts center and a museum to house Native American artifacts, archeological and science exhibits.

The Executive Board for AMIA has the vision and we know that we need community involvement to see it through. Please join us – especially if you are coming to the Bluegrass Festival in 2009!

MEMBERSHIP DEADLINE IS AUGUST 31, 2009 for this year's Festival

AMIA Membership

“Come Join the Fun”

Name _____ Phone _____

Address _____ City _____

State _____ Zip _____

e-mail address _____

Special Interest (music, education, history, ecology, archeology):

Membership Categories:

® $20 Mink 10% discount at AMIA Booth at Bluegrass Festival

® $40 Otter Free Bluegrass Festival T-Shirt

® $60 Cougar 1 free Pass to the Bluegrass Festival

® $80 Pond Turtle 2 free Passes to the Bluegrass Festival

® $100 Wild Turkey 4 free Passes to the Bluegrass Festival & 1 free Bluegrass Festival T-Shirt

Send your check and completed application to:

AMIA, PO Box 672, Lower Lake, CA 95457