Anderson Marsh Musical Fundraiser Planned for September 14 at Soper Reese in Lakeport

The Anderson Marsh Interpretive Association (AMIA), the nonprofit association partnering with the State Parks Department to keep Anderson Marsh State Historic Park open, is asking everyone to "save the date," Saturday, September 14, for a musical fundraiser to help keep the Park open.

The concert will be held at the Soper Reese Theatre in Lakeport, starting at 7 p.m. Featured will be bluegrass favorites Pat Ickes and "Bound to Ride," along with the Anderson Family Band and local musicians.

Wine will be poured by Thorn Hill Winery and snacks will be available for purchase.

Tickets for this event are $25 and will be available before the event at the Soper Reese box office on Fridays, 10:30am-5:30pm and at the Travel Center in Lakeport, Monday through Friday, 9am -5pm.

AMIA is the interpretive association for the State Historic Park and provides programs and funds to keep the Park open and available to the public. The organization presents guided nature walks and tours, school field trips and the popular Christmas at the Ranch event in December.

All profits from the upcoming concert will go towards projects, expenses and improvements at the Park.
